

Ways to use them:

Unlike traditional paper fortune tellers, these are not used for pretend fortune telling. These are for facilitating basic conversation exchange about the topic of Covid-19.

Suggested game format:

- Person number one says, "Spell your name." For each letter, the person holding the Fortune Teller manipulates the device back and forth.
- Person number two is then shown the two options appearing on the inner triangles. Person one says, "Pick which one you want." In the example to the right, the person picks, "How will you..."
- 3. Person two opens up the innermost petals, where four options appear. He selects A, and then completes the question by saying to person one, "....get back in touch with friends after Covid?"

I hope you find these things useful.

Joel Shaul, LCSW

autismteachingstrategies.com

Covid-19 Paper Fortune Tellers

This very specialized paper fortune teller is to help a child to talk with one other person — another child, or else an adult — about their Covid-19 pandemic experiences, thoughts and feelings. Half of the questions relate to prior experiences and half deal with hopes and expectations for life after the pandemic.

To make them:

- * Cut out all four sides of the perimeter of the Fortune Teller.
- * Fold them. This YouTube video shows how: https://bit.ly/34QK6jX . Start with the printed side down.

Cut out all four sides around the outside before you start folding.

Begin folding with the printed portion facing downward.

