

48 Pre-written CBT Thought Bubbles

Hands-on visuals for increasing awareness of problem thoughts

Joel Shaul, LCSW

How to make them:

Print out the entire file. Use cardstock or laminated paper. Color is important, as the red ones are the automatic negative thoughts and the green ones are the antidote thoughts.

How to use them:

- 1. Introduce the basics of “Poison Thoughts” and “Antidote Thoughts.” A good way to do this is to have the children watch a six-minute YouTube video I made: <https://bit.ly/2Ut6E43> . There are many, many other activities on the website to do in combination with the Thought Bubbles – check them out.
- 2. Make a “Poison Thought Game.” Scatter the thought bubbles all over the floor. Say something like this: “We’re going to do a kind of matching game. These red thought bubbles are different kinds of thoughts that make people upset. The green ones help to fight the red ones. See if you can find green ones to match up with each of the red ones.” There are some Antidote Thought bubbles that match more than one Poison Thought; this does not have to be exact.”
- 3. Play “Hunt for your Poison Thoughts.” Say something like: “Each person has certain Poison Thoughts that bother them more than other ones. Which ones bother you the most? Which Antidote Thoughts do you need to fight them?” You can do this activity by either scattering the thought bubbles around the floor, or taping them up to a wall, or else by holding them up one at a time in sequence for the child/ children to look at.
- 4. Fill out the blank thought bubbles. The pre-written thought bubbles cover many of the most common problem thoughts and beliefs affecting children with autism spectrum disorders. I provided blank thought bubbles to allow kids to customize their Poison and Antidote thoughts. I suggest that you print out a lot of these blank ones on paper and keep them handy to help children sort out their problem thoughts.

People are not doing it my way!
the *right way!

People are breaking rules!

There is usually more than one way to do something.

It's not usually my job to enforce rules.

This person is completely bad
forever!

This bad thing is completely bad
forever!

A person might change. You don't know whether they might do good things later.

©2018 Joel Shaul

Some things seem worse than they really are.

©2018 Joel Shaul

I can't deal with this change!

©2018 Joel Shaul

I don't want to stop what I am doing!

©2018 Joel Shaul

When I stop doing what I like and start doing the next thing, it may be hard at first, but I will manage.

©2018 Joel Shaul

It can be hard to stop doing something and move on to the next thing. But I will be able to do it.

©2018 Joel Shaul

It's too hard and I won't be able to do it!

©2018 Joel Shaul

If I ask for help, I am weak and helpless.

©2018 Joel Shaul

I have done hard things before.

There's no way to know until I try.

©2018 Joel Shaul

It is brave and smart to ask for help when things are hard.

©2018 Joel Shaul

I need to win
and get my way!

©2018 Joel Shaul

I need to be first!

©2018 Joel Shaul

Other people also need to win and get their way.

©2018 Joel Shaul

Other people need to be first
as often as me,
or it is not fair.

©2018 Joel Shaul

People just talk, and don't listen to what I have to say!

©2018 Joel Shaul

That hurts me and makes me mad – it must be on purpose!

©2018 Joel Shaul

It is only fair for other people's words to be heard as often as my own words.

©2018 Joel Shaul

If someone hurt me or made me mad, I need to ask myself:
Was it on purpose?

©2018 Joel Shaul

I must be bad, ugly or stupid.

©2018 Joel Shaul

People will always be mean to me no matter what I do!

©2018 Joel Shaul

there are things about me that are good and smart.

©2018 Joel Shaul

You don't know how people might treat
you in the future.
People might notice
good things you say and do.

There is nobody who wants to be my friend.

©2018 Joel Shaul

I don't fit in and I never will.

©2018 Joel Shaul

I might find a friend.
I can work on better ways to be a friend, so that someone might want me for a friend.

©2018 Joel Shaul

I am having a hard time fitting in now.
There will be a place for me in the world eventually.

©2018 Joel Shaul

I have to get back at people for being mean!

©2018 Joel Shaul

What if it's too hard or I get too upset?

©2018 Joel Shaul

Getting back at people who are mean will just make my problems worse.

©2018 Joel Shaul

If you predict that it's too hard, that will just make you more upset when you are trying to do it.

©2018 Joel Shaul

What if I fail?

©2018 Joel Shaul

People are making me lose my temper!

©2018 Joel Shaul

It is more useful to imagine success than to think so much about failure.

©2018 Joel Shaul

Your might be angry, but staying in control is your own responsibility.

©2018 Joel Shaul

Being alone is always better
and less bother.

©2018 Joel Shaul

I am different and that is bad.

©2018 Joel Shaul

There are good times to be alone. But it is important to work hard at finding ways to be around other people.

©2018 Joel Shaul

I am unique.
That is okay.

©2018 Joel Shaul

This seems bad and feels bad, so it is bad.

©2018 Joel Shaul

If I make mistakes, I am a loser and a failure.

©2018 Joel Shaul

My first thoughts aren't always correct. If something seems bad at first, it might turn out okay in the end.

©2018 Joel Shaul

Everyone makes mistakes. Trying to fix mistakes means you are good.
